LEGISLATIVE DOINGS.

—The House has voted to tax railroads for common school purposes.

—The Senate passed the bill to put at hard labor persons fined and imprisoned in county jails.

—Chief Clerk G. B. Keller has prepared a comprehensive bill for the regulation of free turnpikes.

The circuit clerks are trying to effect the passage of a bill to allow them the same fees in felony as they get in civil cases.

—Both Houses have passed the bill to appropriate $1,500 to erect a monument over the grave of Gov. Luke P. Blackburn.

—An act to repeal an act amending the charter of the Danville and Hoxtonville Turnpike Road Co. has passed the Senate.

—The legislature treated the invitation of Vice-President Woodbury, of the Mid- dlesboro Co., to visit the new city in a body, contemptuously, by making it in the special order for All Fool's Day.

—The Peterman school text books bill, which requires publishers to make an 8 year contract with the State, stipulating that the prices of the books shall be charged wholesale dealers, passed the Senate.

—The bill repealing the various lottery franchises in the State passed the Senate almost unanimously.

—Mr. Stephenson, of Mereer, is on the right track and it is to be hoped that he will pursue it to the point of success. He has offered a bill to reduce the peremptory challenges of the Commonwealth to 10 in felony and 3 in misdemeanor cases.

—The legislature seems to be on the lookout all the time for excuses to adjourn. It adjourned the other day out of respect to the death of Mr. Taulbee and Friday because some employee of the auditor's office died. It is no telling where the thing will stop.

—The House by a vote of 64 to 5 passed the Senate bill to compel witnesses to testify before the lottery investigating committee under fine and imprisonment. Mr. Warren voted in the negative, because, as he explained, it was an invasion of the rights of the judiciary. When the governor signs the bill the witnesses will have to walk the chalk.

—A bill has been introduced in the

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—The railroad agent here has, since the adoption of making copper change, paid out $10,000 and taken in $500.

—Mr. T. T. Wallace is the happy possessor of a curiosity in the way of a petrified track of a wild cat which he found in a cave not far from town. He has refused a $5 offer for it.

—Dick Welsh, lately returned from Middlesboro, says if the i was knocked from its name and a n substituted it would be more appropriate to the occasion.

—Little Willie Belle Burnside fell over the banister, a distance of 12 feet at Mr. S. W. Paris, Thursday evening, but was but slightly injured. Capt. G. W. Roberts, of Louisville, for many years a conductor on the L. & N., was with friends here Saturday.

—We have received a copy of the Christian Journal, in magazine form, published by Rev. E. Snodgrass, Tokio, Japan. It is printed in both English and Japanese, about equally divided and presents a peculiar appearance to one unacquainted with the nature of the "get up" of Japanese papers. The title appears on the back instead of the front page and the lines extend from top to bottom of page instead of from left to right.

—Penn court adjourned Saturday after one week's session. Among the cases disposed of were the following: John Proctor, for shooting at Editor Cress, acquitted; James Townsend, for shooting Sam Anglin, dismissed; James Palmer and Bill Austin, charged with burglary, acquitted. A number of cases, including three murder cases, were continued to next court, among them Wallace Lissell for killing Granville Adams, Tom Bae, for killing Baker, at thonway, Sylvester Robbins, Jasper and Wm. McGraw, charged with killing Tom Collins, who was found dead on the roadside near Line Creek some months since. Jasper and Robbins gave bond in the sum of $1,000. Wm. Metcraw has not been able to give the $500 and yet remains in jail. Several indictments were found by the grand jury, but the number is not near so great as in the past, probably owing to the bad condition of the road and the inability of witnesses to attend. The Signal facetiously remarks that "quite a number of parties whom the Commonwealth's attorney has been trying to force into litigation have conscientious scruples about inspecting the jail from the inside and have failed to answer roll-call." A discovery was made with regard to our new jail, which was supposed to be rat proof as well as burglar proof. On Friday when Bill Austin and Jim Palmer were brought out for trial a cut place was found in the floor leading to the upper cells. Inquiry disclosed the fact that the male prisoners, who were kept down stairs, devised a plan for having a visitor from the upper cell. They went to work with an eleven inch poker, used in punching the fire in the stove, pried off the iron lining of the ceiling, proceeded to burn three six inch sleepers in two, besides two thickness of a floor. It required but a few days to accomplish the task. The 8 by 13 inch hole made was kept covered from above by a mattress. The place was made some two months since and kept concealed until last Friday.

—Clara Belle says "We are going in for greater breadin' and bun paddin' has broken out again. A saucier dressmaker told me that she was obliged to cushion most of the hips presented for her inspection. It's not only the bust, hips and small of the back that we are forced to round out," she said, "but I often pad the stomachs of my customers. You would laugh if you could see the skinny frames—this is the only word that expresses it—which I take and build up into the semblance of a shape."

—Two old men, 77 and 80 respectively, married wives below 30 years of age last week. The union of May and December has never proved very satisfactory and will not likely in these cases, which are located in Bath county.

—An organization has been formed in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in which the members belonging to the gentler sex pledge themselves not to associate with men who use liquor or tobacco. This form of boycott has been unsuccessfully tried before. The girls always weaken when a liquor-drinking tobacco-chewing excuse of a man asks them to marry him and take him to their arms and hearts.

—Two old men, 77 and 80 respectively, married wives below 30 years of age last week. The union of May and December has never proved very satisfactory and will not likely in these cases, which are located in Bath county.

—An Eastport, Me., clerk also runs a drug store and when business gets dull as it is at present he offers marriage license and a bottle of cologne free to every purchaser of $5's worth of drugs.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—After six years of courtship, for the most part carried on clandestinely, Robert Fenzel and Miss Rhoda Portman were made one after God's holy ordinance at the Miller House, Lancaster, Friday evening, by Eld. J. C. Frank. Opposition on the part of the bride's parents made it necessary to resort to a sly method of bringing the two young people together and when Miss Portman left her parent's roof with a friend of the groom under the pretense of attending a storm party, there was not an iota of suspicion on the part of her parents that that would be the last time they would look upon her as a single woman. Not far on the Lancasterpike the groom and two friends were overtaken and then a swap of seats was made, giving the "intendents" a chance to talk over matters of the present and future. At Lancaster, County Clerk Wherritt, who had been notified to be in readiness with the necessary papers and a man of God, was found at his post, and at 8:15 "Bob" Fenzel and Miss Rhoda Portman were bound heart and hand. They immediately returned to this place and are for the present "hotted" at the Myers House. Miss Rhoda is an exceedingly accomplished young lady and possesses alike beauty of face and character. She is the youngest daughter of spire M. C. Portman and has made the Portman House parlor a most pleasant and popular resort for the young people. The groom, who has been a citizen of this place some 10 years, is a decidedly clever young man and having had the entire charge of Mr. A. B. Penny's jewelry trade, has proven himself efficient and popular. He has a legion of friends who wish him well and who have faith in his making the kind and affectionate husband that his better half deserves. The Lexington Journal, and entire corps who have always been friends to both parties, wish Mr. and Mrs. Fenzel a happy, long and prosperous life and hope that there will never be an instant when they will not rejoice and be glad of the day they were pronounced husband and wife.

—All the editors who attended the last Press Association at Owensboro will remember with pleasure the bright and vivacious Miss Maud Cozine, who accompanied her father, Mr. John P. Cozine, of the Shelbyville News, to the meeting. Her happy and lively manner added greatly to the enjoyment of the attendant excursion and it looked like more than one of the younger set had been completely captivated by her winning ways. But Miss Maud, though apparently heart-whole and tame free, was just playing the adolescent journalists and having a good time, while her affections remained true to a young gentleman in the Louisville post-office. Last week she accompanied him to Jeffersonville and the twin returned to Kentucky one flesh. The happy man is Mr. Will Walworth, a clerk in the post office, with a good salary. Miss Maud will be missed at Wincheson in June, but happy at home with her "own little hubby," she can afford to laugh at our discreditable.

—An organization has been formed in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in which the members belonging to the gentler sex pledge themselves not to associate with men who use liquor or tobacco. This form of boycott has been unsuccessfully tried before. The girls always weaken when a liquor-drinking tobacco-chewing excuse of a man asks them to marry him and take him to their arms and hearts.

—Two old men, 77 and 80 respectively, married wives below 30 years of age last week. The union of May and December has never proved very satisfactory and will not likely in these cases, which are located in Bath county.

—An Eastport, Me., clerk also runs a drug store and when business gets dull as it is at present he offers marriage license and a bottle of cologne free to every purchaser of $5's worth of drugs.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The Sanctification Methodists of central New York have declared against Masonry, which they consider a bar to holiness.

—There were 20 confessions and 8 admissions to the church during the meeting at the Methodist church, which closed Friday night.

—The Christian Standard says that the Disciples have 6,165 churches and 629,000 members in this country and calls upon them to give $100,000 to foreign missions this year.

—Rev. Ewing, pastor of the wealthiest United Presbyterian church at Pittsburg, has had to resign because he married his deceased wife's sister, a law of the church expressly forbidding such marriages.

—The Southern Baptist Convention will meet in Fort Worth, Texas, May 9, the Christian Journal, one of the very best country papers in the United States, celebrated its 18th birthday March 1st. The Interior Journal has no superior as a bright, cleanly and honorably-conducted newspaper. Long may Walton and his Interior Journal wave together.—Christian Times.

—The Lawkins, the principal business block of Kirksville, Mo., burned; loss $75,000.

—A landslide at Troy, N. Y., crushed two houses and killed five occupants.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For County Judge, THOMAS W. VARNON;
County Attorney, THOMAS B. PAXTON;
County Clerk, GEORGE B. COOPER;
Sheriff, J. N. MENEELY;
Jailer, SAMUEL M. OWENS;
Assessor, T. D. KENNEDY;
Superintendent Schools, W. A. MCLARAY;
Surveyor, HARRY A. EVANS;
Coroner, ARTHUR CARSON.

JUDGE M. J. DURHAM has at length yielded to the importunities of friends to become a candidate for auditor. This is authoritatively announced in the Courier-Journal of Saturday, along with some highly complimentary editorial comments. While there were many of his admirers, who wanted him to run for governor, this decision will be eminently satisfactory to all who know how peculiarly fitted the judge is for this most important office. They know that the financial affairs of the State will be absolutely safe in his hands and that he will, if elected, discharge the duties of the office faithfully, conscientiously and capably. His admirable record as circuit judge, member of Congress and first controller of the treasury under Mr. Cleveland's administration, is an earnest of what may be expected of him and it will make him a man of strength to the next State ticket. From the expressions that had come from all parts of the State previous to the announcement of his candidacy, we are inclined to the belief that Judge Durham will have no opposition, but to give a walk-over for the nomination, which he asks and deserves.

EDITOR WOOLFOOK does the laudable thing, as he always does, in the matter complained of by Mr. Marr's friend, "Justice," by publishing the letter and comment in the last issue of the Advocate. He also explains that he was not present when the court delivered its opinion in the injunction suit and knew nothing of the oral statement that the defendant had done nothing but what he conceived to be legally and morally right. No accusation had been made to the contrary and to have published it would have been merely the reiteration of a fact that is generally conceded and has never been denied. It is not a matter which personally concerns us, but it is a genuine pleasure to note this further evidence of the Advocate's fairness, even to a legal opponent.

JUDGE RUSSELL, who, if half that is told on him is true, is not fit to occupy the bench of a circuit or any other kind of court, reiterates the charge to the grand-jury of Washington county that he made to that of Nelson, namely, that the law against giving liquor to minors is inoperative because it would prevent a preacher administering sacrament to a person in his non-age or a friend from giving it in cases of sickness. The judge is evidently a rare bird. By the way, we have heard of no proposition in the legislature to investigate the serious charges made against him by Commonwealth's Attorney Shuck and others. His acts are certainly as much if not more deserving of investigation than were those of Judges Jackson and Lilly.

A PETITION, signed by scores of the leading citizens of Boyle, is published in the Advocate asking Judge R. P. Jacobs to become a candidate for member of the constitutional convention. The judge is one of the soundest of lawyers and most conservative of men and his acceptance of the call is awaited with anxiety, not only by his friends at home, but all over the State. His presence in the convention would add lustre to a body, which, it seems now, will be composed of the very best men in the State.

TWENTY-FIVE of the 39 principal cities of New York elected democratic mayors at the recent elections and the democrats gained everywhere. The people all over the country are losing confidence in the party in power and are expressing it at the polls every chance they get. As Abraham Lincoln was wont to say, "You can fool all the people a part of the time and a part of the people all the time; but you cannot fool all the people all the time."

They say old man Brown-Squard is still engaged on his Elixir of Life, confident that he will yet be able to prolong human life, without the ravages of age, indefinitely. As many people were sent to their long home by using his elixir, it would seem that the law ought to be invoked to suppress the old fellow and his methods.

The government printing office is now at work on the largest order it ever filled. The 40,000 enumerators of the 11th census will require 18,000,000 blanks. This will take 15,000 reams of paper and 20 presses running 12 hours a day will be required to finish the job in 12 weeks.

EMMETT G. LOGAN, the Warren county granger, has another boy at his home, making three since the last census. It won't be his fault if Kentucky does not make a good showing in the coming enumeration both in agricultural interests and the baby industry.

The Mississippi river has been and is still on a fearful tear, and death and destruction has marked its course. The levees were broken at numerous points and whole counties were covered with water from 6 inches to 20 feet. The lower part of New Orleans was submerged and the people lived in terror for several days over the prospect of the levees giving away above the city and sweeping them to death. Six inches more of water would have taken the river higher than the levees, but fortunately the rains ceased and the calamity was averted. Men of all classes labored night and day to strengthen the supports, and the Louisiana Lottery Co. gave the city $50,000 to help it in the work. The same company sent its check for $100,000 to the governor, but he refused to accept it in behalf of the State, stating that he did not wish to put the people under obligations to a company whose longer existence is shortly to be passed by the legislature.

There is a noted vocalist in Richmond Va., who makes a business of singing at funerals and he is greatly sought after. He has sung at 350 funerals in the last few years and has become so attached to the service that he has planned to sing at his own by means of a phonograph. "Home of the Soul" and "Good Night" have been chosen and if the scheme works then it may be said of Capt. Cunningham some day that "though dead he yet singeth."

A TRAVELER, WRITER in the Courier-Journal says there is no cause for alarm in the L. & N. getting control of the Monon and Louisville Southern roads. The contemplated extensions to the mountains of Southeastern Kentucky will go right along, he thinks, and with more certainty and celerity with such powerful corporations as the Pennsylvania and L. & N. roads, with their nautical millions, to back them.

GOV. BRECKINRIDGE has just pardoned a man convicted at the last term of the Bath circuit court for the third time for horse stealing. We do not know what influences were brought to bear for the inexcusable thief, but it does not appear that his pronouise to devote the rest of his life to preaching should have entailed any figure in his favor. His incarceration for life would present an admirable sermon against stealing.

MACAULEY'S THEATRE was crowded Friday night to hear Mr. Watterson's lecture and everybody was delighted. All of the leading clergymen and other prominent people occupied seats on the stage, which shows how much the great journalist is thought of by everybody at home.

MACAULEY'S THEATRE was crowded Friday night to hear Mr. Watterson's lecture and everybody was delighted. All of the leading clergymen and other prominent people occupied seats on the stage, which shows how much the great journalist is thought of by everybody at home.

THE grand-jury at Washington indicted Judge Kincaid for murder, as is the custom there in all cases of homicide. The judge continues in a deplorable condition and many think he will not live to stand his trial. Senator Voorhees will be leading counsel for the defense and other eminent lawyers will assist.

THE UNLUCKINESS of 13 has been again demonstrated. Mrs. Hathaway, who was one of 13 children and was herself the mother of 13, has just died at Pittsfield, Mass., aged 101. It is hard to imagine anything worse than either of the three things that happened to this old lady.

NEWS CONDENSED

An old colored man, who formerly belonged to him, appeared in court at Raleigh, N. C., and asked to be allowed to serve the sentence of seven years imposed on C. E. Cross for forgery while bank president.

Miss Ella Ewing, living near Bainbridge, Mo., 18 years old, is now seven feet and eight inches high, weighs 225 pounds and wears a No. 15 shoe. The girl's parents are of about the usual size, the father being possibly a little taller than the average.

A Chicago News Washington correspondent says "if Judge Kincaid lives to be tried there is very little prospect of his conviction, because large number of witnesses will testify to the terrorism that Mr. Tanlbee exercised over him during the last year or more."

—Fire caught in Matthews' photography gallery at Frankfort, destroying it and communicating the flames to Crutcher & Stark's clothing store, it was also burned. Matthews' loss is complete and that of the clothing men $45,000, the latter pretty well covered by insurance.

The wife of old man Oleson, who aided and abetted in his lynching at White Hall, Wis., together with three of the lynchers, has been sentenced to death. Mrs. Oleson invited the men into the house after the hanging and regaled them with hot rolls and coffee.

The ladies of the Hollywood Memorial Association will petition the city council to have the house occupied by Jefferson Davis during the war, at Richmond, Va., preserved from destruction and turned over to them to be used as a museum of Confederate relics and mementos.

—The Tennessee legislature barely had time to get home before the governor or again called them into extra session, this time to consider an annexation bill, by which Memphis will increase her population by some 25,000. She, however, is required to put up $10,000 to defray the expense of legislative mileage and per diem.

A man named Stratton went into the store of W. W. Lewis, at Brasfield, Neb., and shot him to death. Stratton, seeing an effort was being made to lynch him, gave himself up to an officer, but he was taken away and in less than half an hour after the commission of his crime he was dangling in space with a rope around his neck.

—A good democrat died in West Franklin, Pa., the other day. He provided that the bequests he left to his grand-sons should be forfeited unless they voted the democratic ticket, and that his grand-daughters' bequests should suffer a like fate unless they married democratic husbands. In case of failure to divide the estate on this basis, it was willed to the Democratic National Committee.

—The Forth Bridge of Scotland, just completed, is added to the wonders of the world. It took seven years to build it and required 50,000 tons of the finest steel. The bridge proper is a little over a mile in length, but there are viaducts on each end connecting it with the high ground, and these together add a half mile more to the length of the work. The height of the spans above the water is 150 feet, allowing for the passage of the largest vessels. Fifty-three people lost their lives by accident during its construction and 433 were injured. The total cost was over ten millions.

The government has shipped 11 marble tombstones to Mr. Gran Morrison to be placed over the graves of Union soldiers buried in this vicinity.

Our dancing class, taught by "Prof." C. C. Carson, had a number of invited guests Friday evening and a very delightful impromptu hop was enjoyed.

A friend went into Mrs. Linda Myers' hen house Sunday night and left his head at the door as a reminder of his visit. It is supposed that the noise that the hens made rendered it necessary for the fellow's safety for them to behead him.

Our store at Hustonville will soon require the attention of both of us so all parties who are indebted to us are earnestly requested to call and settle with us or we will be compelled to put our accounts in the hands of an officer. Owsley &amp; Craig.

A box car of freight train No. 32 jumped the track in tunnel No. 6, near Hazel Patch, Sunday morning, delaying the 3:27 a. m. express 12 hours and throwing the other trains out of gear. The car was set completely across the track and one end was jammed several feet into the wall of the tunnel.

The weather, bad as it was, did not prevent a pretty good crowd of people from attending the railroad meeting at McKinney Saturday afternoon. Messrs. D. W. Vandever and W. H. Miller made ringing speeches in favor of the Cumberland railroad and had the satisfaction of knowing that they made numerous converts. Several persons agreed either to give the right-of-way or have the amount they shall receive to the committee. The McKinney people are anxious for the road and are willing to do anything reasonable to obtain it.

AN ENGINE, three-horse power, six com pulleys and other steam fixtures for sale. W. P. Walton.

A negro named Eugene Wheeler, was killed by a train on a bridge near Danville Saturday. He had a wife and six children.

THE Superior Court again decides that there is no appeal from the decision of the county court refusing to grant liquor license where no prohibitory law prevails.

Mrs. Gossman's treddy admits that she was fairly beaten by Chicago, and though chagrined and disappointed for the time, she has already ceased to smart at her defeat. This sensible course of Middleboro is recommended to New York. — Chicago Herald.

Having bought out the coal business of George D. Warren, I will continue the business and ask a share of the patronage of the citizens of Stanford and vicinity. My office will be with Mr. George D. Warren, and my orders left there will have my immediate attention. B. K. Warren.

To citizens, Judge Morrow requests us to say that the grand juries need not report for duty till the afternoon of the first day of the circuit court, Monday, March 24, and the petit jury till Tuesday morning, 25th. As a jury case is rarely reached on the first day, the latter will save the State $48.

CONSIDERING how early it is in the season the INTERIOR JOURNAL is fast filling up with horse advertisements. This is because the people know where they can get the best service cheapest. By horse show day in April we expect to have so many that an enlargement of the paper will be necessary, and just as soon as it is necessary to protect the rights of the reader it will be done.

Mr. JON S. JONES has moved his stock to the large double store room opposite the Portland House and is daily adding to it. It takes a vast amount of goods to fill this store room, but every shelf is being loaded down and its contents marked at the lowest cash price. Mr. Jones is a born merchant, full of energy and enterprise, and we hope and believe he will build up a trade even beyond his most sanguine expectations. See his advertisement on our 1st page.

On a good friend, Mr. Max Salinger, of the Louisville Store, finds that his column advertisement paid him so well for the year just closed, that he has renewed it for another 12 months and will continue to tell the people where they can get the best goods at the very lowest prices. The establishment has been a gratifying success to the management from the start and Mr. Salinger is not slow to give the INTERIOR JOURNAL credit for the aid it has extended in making it so. A prize is offered to every purchaser this week. Read the advertisement and go and secure one.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Office Singer Manufacturing Company, Cincinnati, O., Feb. 20, 1890. We beg leave to announce that Mr. P. H. Idol has been relieved from the management of our business at Danville, Ky., and Mr. R. Eason has been appointed our duly authorized agent in his stead. In order to secure prompt attention, all communications with reference to Singer Sewing Machines, should be addressed to "The Singer Manufacturing Co., Danville, Ky." The public is cordially invited to visit our new parlors on Third street, two doors south of the post-office, where a full supply of Needles, Parts and Attachments may be obtained. Very respectfully, The Singer Manufacturing Company.

The crowded condition of the three lunatic asylums of the State, which often compels the confinement of the unfortunate in jails, calls loudly for further appropriation, either for the enlargement of the present institutions or the establishment of another. It seems to be conceded that the number of patients at each of the asylums is as many, if not more, than one superintendent can attend to, which being the case, another must be provided. This can be done at comparatively small cost by the purchase of the Crab Orchard Springs property, which it is understood can be had for $87,000, which includes besides the buildings, which cost many thousands more, a tract of 36 acres of land, and several varieties of mineral waters of established curative powers. On a question of sentiment, we would oppose the conversion of our most fashionable, as well as delightful summer resort, to so grim a retreat, but when it comes to looking at the matter from a practical business point, we are satisfied that the purchase of the property by the State will not only be the best for it, because it can be had so cheaply and be immediately available for occupancy, but for Crab Orchard and the county generally. Considering the question of benefit to our people, an asylum would greatly overbalance the Springs pecuniarily. The latter furnishes a market for some of their surplus a few months in the year, while the former would require a vast amount of all kinds of farmer's supplies the year round. We understand that a committee of legislators will be sent to Crab Orchard this week to investigate and report on the feasibility of the plan of purchase as well as the desirability of the location, &amp;c. The gentlemen wish to meet our representative citizens there and it is hoped that those who can will make it a point to be present.

ANOTHER snow storm Saturday and the mercury down to 20° Sunday has knocked out every prospect for peaches this year and injured wheat very perceptibly. Farmers tell us that nearly all of the more advanced crops are killed. Yesterday was warm, but the instilling barometer and Greely both indicated falling weather.

The appointment of a lady to be postmaster at Harrodsburg puts four of the best offices in this section into the hands of the gentler sex—Somerset, Lancaster and Stanford already being admirably served by them. As the ladies are noted for the way they manage the mails we are always pleased to see them given a chance to handle the mails.

LIZ. BROOKES. While attempting to mount his horse Saturday, Dr. W. S. Drye, of Hustonville, was thrown to the ground and had his leg broken above the ankle. The horse shied and threw him with such force that one of the bones was driven clear through the skin. The doctor's suffering is intense and the incident is likely to go hard with him at his time of life.

BETWEEN $75,000 and $100,000 of good hard Stanford money have gone to help boom other towns, some of them with less natural advantages than our own. With our two railroads and the bright prospect for another, this amount of money properly handled and our advantages liberally advertised would have made Stanford boom fully or much if not more than Winchester. But our people can't be induced to think that Stanford can ever be more than she is and it is but little use to reason with them.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

Farmers seem to be considerably alarmed about the wheat crop. They say the wheat looks as if it had been cooked and fear it will never come out. Some fields of blue grass look scorched and yellow.

It appears that Danville is not a place suited to Jews who handle second-hand clothing, as two who have been in the business here only a short time have sold out or auctioned off their goods and gone to other cities.

Mr. ED CAMP left Saturday night for Louisville, where he will be married Tuesday, 1/2, to Miss Bessie Trimble. Mr. C. recently came here from Louisville and is looking for the dry goods firm of Welsh, Wiseman &amp; Co.

Miss Emily Kincaid has gone to Washington to be with her brother, Mr. Charlie Kincaid. Miss Carrie Fields has returned from Lexington and has taken rooms at the Clemens House. Miss Hattie Shumate is visiting her uncle, John Higginbottom, at Lancaster.

—Mr. Mack Fisher's barn near town was consumed by fire Wednesday night. Mr. Fisher is a raiser of fine cattle and some were uneasy about the safety of these, but he succeeded in getting them out. A lot of hay and grain, together with farming implements were burned. It is a clear loss to Mr. F. as he had no insurance.

—Eugene Wheeler, a colored man, was killed by a passenger train on the bridge over Clark's Run, Friday. He started to run when the train whistled and it is thought he aimed to cross the bridge before the train. He was knocked down an embankment about 40 feet and was so badly bruised and mangled he only lived a short time.

—Mr. L. F. Copeland's lecture here Thursday night on "Snubs and Snobbery" was listened to by a full house. He spoke two hours and the audience never seemed to tire and was sorry when he ended. His speech was full of wit and humor and a more eloquent speaker it has never been our pleasure of listening to. This was the last lecture of the season and people have shown their good sense and taste by patronizing them. Another course of lectures will be given the coming season.

—A mob caught Dirty Foot, a trouble some Indian, who had murdered a woman near Pierre, S. D., and threw him alive into a blazing fire. He was burned to a crisp.

—The president's proclamation ordering the boomers from the coveted Cherokee strip, backed by soldiers, is beginning to have the desired effect. Gen. Merritt has six troops of cavalry at Guthrie and will march upon them.

—That was a singularly sad suicide at Topeka, Kan. Two sisters, school teachers, and highly respected, had developed symptoms of consumption, which had, through several generations, been hereditary in their family. They sought death by drowning rather than face the slow progress of the dread disease.

HENRY CLAY AND ANDREW JACKSON.

In old Henry Clay and Senator Herren of Ky. and Andrew Jackson of Tennessee, who became President, decided to do something to improve the breed of horses in those States. They requested Mr. Rhind, Minister to Constantinople, to procure for them pure Arabian horses he could get in Arabia. He sent over three, but as they came as presents to United States Senators and officials had to be sold at auction. Clay and Herren bought St. Louis and a Mr. Johnson bought Louisville. They both came to Kentucky. From St. Louis came the fastest trotting stock in America. Next Mr. L. H. Horsey bred a daughter of Zilchad to Vernon Morgan, a 14½ hands high, a horse never beaten a heat in a trotting race. The union of these bloods was only a union of the primitive Arabian blood. This Golddust was a positive trotter and a horse of great elegance, standing 16½ hands high. As a getter he produced a positive race.

—In the House this week an effort will be made to secure the adoption of a resolution granting clerks to Congressmen.

—Gov. McCreary made an urgent appeal to the Rivers and Harbors Committee for the Cumberland River. He thinks that it will recommend an appropriation of at least $250,000.
